NOW LET THE BAND PLAY.

KANSAS CITY'S INDOMITABLE BALL TEAM SCORES A VICTORY.

At a Moment When It Was Least Expected the Blues Defent Detroit by a Score of 3 to 2-Shows All Things Possible.

Word was received at nightfall in this town yesterday that the Kansas City Blues had won a game of baseball. The information spread like wildfire, and immediately there was intense excitement. Crowds cor gregated about the bulletin boards and discussed the report in all its phases. The people were unprepared for the shock attendant upon the announcement of the strange intelligence, and many refused to give it credence. It was such an improbable story that much corroborative evidence was needed before it would pass current for fact. All night long the newspaper of-fice telephones were besieged by excited people who asked for particulars of the accident. About midnight a man, with a voice husky with emotion, called upon The Journai to ask where he could purchase a large, serviceable telescope. He said he wanted to use it in looking for the millennium. Here is the story of the eighth wonder of the world:

And Frior to lo-day they had engaged in twelve bettles, and sustained griovous defeat in each. To-day's victory came as laim in Gellead, and Mannere Manning what on the stage. It was all owing to a young ster mamed Daniel Friend, who is a left-handed picher, and once upon a time behild the viserines down to three scattered hits, as widely separated as Populistic election returns. The visitors only found Thomas in three limings, but in two they were of the order designated as doubtful Withal, the score was close and exciting. Pete Cassidy was fined yesterday—not by Ebright, however, but by a police magistrate. After the game on Tuesday some of the gamins twitted the first baseman on his attack of blind staggers which lost the Millers the game, and Pete turned loose some profanity. A crowd of haif-dazed fans were standing in front of the builetin board at Eleventh and Walnut streets when the score stood 3 to 1 in the seventh inning yesterday, confidently expecting to see a 4 or 5 or 6 marked up to the credit of the Detroits before the game closed. A small, business-like man came bustling down the street, glanced at the score, paused, looked again, drew out his watch, noted the hour, and then, turning to the crowd, exclaimed: "Let's all pray for rain."

Cleveland papers are beginning to "guy" their team. One of them says: "McAilister is a valuable utility man. He can carry eight bat bags at once." Another intimates that McAleer played one game and was immediately "Charley horsed;" then adds: "Isn't it time now to unwrap the spice cloths from McGarr and set him up?" The Cleveland World says: "Cuppy has a sore arm. Wilson's feet are asleep. Young has a wooden wing and McDermott is wild.
